

I am against the watering down of our current "do not call" laws, by allowing the banks the right to call past customers without their permission.